Board Approves Plat For Antioch Manor North

Trustees at the regular Antioch Village Board meeting on Monday night, Aug. 4, approved the subdivision plat for the Antioch Manor North development. The development will be built on Rte. 83 north of North Ave.

Mayor Ray Toft made several appointments during the meeting, including Tim Wells as administrator of public works, Joe Huber as superintendent of the street department, and Marilyn Sterbenz as village collector. Sterbenz is also the village clerk, an elected office.

An agreement between the village and Antioch Community High School to have Antioch Police patrol the parking lot was discussed. No formal action was taken, but the village attorney, the police chief, and officials from the high school will meet together to iron out details of the proposal for action by the village board later.

There was some discussion on the possibility of setting up a pension fund for members of the Antioch Fire Dept., which is a volunteer department. Again, no action was taken, but village officials will continue to investigate and study the matter.

Jan Kut was hired as the secretary for the zoning board of appeals.

The board authorized the letting of bids for a new dump truck. Sealed bids will be opened at the regular village board meeting scheduled for Sept. 15.

In a lighter moment, Walt Koziol donated the key to the City of Albuquerque to the village. Koziol had purchased the key at the Lions Annual Chicken Barbecue and Farmers Auction on Aug. 3 with a successful bid of $400. The key had been donated for auction by Ken Schultz, former Antioch resident who is now the Mayor of Albuquerque. Schultz visited Antioch to attend the Lions event. It was his first visit to his old hometown in five years.

Insurance, Equipment Cause Road Tax Hike

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

A public hearing on the 64 percent increase in the road district levy will be held on Thursday, Aug. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Antioch Twp. Office, 99 Rte. 173, Antioch. The township road department seeks $313,250 this year, up from $190,885 last year.

According to Antioch Twp. Road Commissioner, Mark Ring, most of the increase is due to one-time cost items.

Ring said that $44,400 will go to the building and equipment fund for the purpose of buying a new truck and equipment to improve township snow removal. There had not previously been a building and equipment fund, so when a new truck was bought, it cut into the road department's blacktop program. Ring noted that the township can blacktop three and a half miles of road per year if they do not have to use that money for the purchase of equipment.

After this year, the department will consider whether not to levy for the fund or to levy a small amount each year so that residents are not hit with a one-time big increase every time a major piece of equipment is needed.

As with almost every unit of government, workmen's compensation and liability insurance have shot up by 25 percent over last year's rates, which accounts for an additional $5,500 in this year's levy.

Another one-time project which has caused this year's levy to jump is bridge replacement work that will be done on Sylvan Woods Dr.

"We are seeking $44,400 for that project, but we got such a good deal on it that we could not afford to pass on it this year," Ring said.

By approving the project in this budget, the township will pay only 10 percent of the total cost; the county will pay 10 percent, and the state will pay 80 percent.

Although at first glance it is quite an increase, officials are convinced that it will save the township money in the long run.

Appoint Smejkal Superintendent

Marilyn Filiatreault, president of the board of education at Lotus School, announced that Art Smejkal was offered, and accepted, a three-year contract as superintendent of Lotus School at the regular board meeting on Aug. 4.

For the last six months, Smejkal has been acting in a dual superintendency for both Lotus and Grass Lake Schools. Grass Lake took no action in the matter, and it appears that the experiment with the dual superintendency is over.

For Smejkal, the appointment represents a return to his roots. His first job as a superintendent was at Lotus School 20 years ago.

Seek Sponsors For Footlights

Plans are now in full swing at St. Peter's parish of Antioch for the fifth annual presentation of "Footlights" to be held the weekends of Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 7, and 8.

The theme this year is "Footlights and Fancy Free." The entire school will be transformed into an entertainment extravaganza. Admission is restricted to those over 21.

Footlights is one of the major annual social events at St. Peter's. In addition to the efforts and talent of local people who participate directly in the show, area business people are given the opportunity to underwrite production costs as sponsors.

Sponsors' names will be printed in the program book and signs with their names will be placed in the room sponsored.

Though November seems far away, sponsorships need to be arranged now so that managers know what their budget is. For further information, call Gail Marquenski at (312) 356-3725 or Jim Haley at (312) 356-5292.

Receive First Entry In Oldest Issue Contest

The first entry in the Antioch News-Reporter's oldest newspaper contest was turned in by William Johnson of Antioch. The issue date of all entries will be kept secret until the community picnic scheduled at Williams Park on Centennial Sunday, Aug. 31.

The contest is being conducted in conjunction with the Antioch News-Reporter's 100th year of publication.

Publisher William H. Schroeder said that entries will be accepted at the newspaper's office until 5 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 29. The person who turns in the oldest paper will receive a bronze plaque and $100 will be donated to the Lakes Region Historical Society in the winner's name.

All persons who enter can either get their paper back after the contest is over or donate their entry to the historical society.

One reason for the contest is that early publishers did not keep complete records of all papers published.

"We can go back quite a ways," Schroeder said, "but our files are incomplete and there are gaps between issues. We are cooperating with the Illinois State Historical Society in microfilming early copies that are in good enough condition to be recorded."

Officers of the Antioch Historical Society will assist in the judging and authentication of the entries.

ACHS Sets Registration

Antioch Community High School registration is set for Monday, Aug. 18 for freshmen; Tuesday, Aug. 19 for sophomores; Wednesday, Aug. 20 for juniors; and Thursday, Aug. 21 for seniors.

At registration students are required to pay fees, pick up class schedules and have identification pictures taken. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors will have underclass pictures taken.

The general school fee is $25. The fee for freshmen and new students is $30. The fee covers book rental, physical education towels and student identification photos.

Registration is only for students who have enrolled. Other students are required to select courses and register before the registration dates.

The first full school day for all students is Monday, Aug. 25. Freshmen will begin on Friday, Aug. 22, from 8 to 10:40 a.m.

Smithey To Manage Millburn's Growth

How does a new superintendent cope with a growing school system?

That is the question facing Lee Smithey, who begins his first academic year at Millburn Grade School later this month.

Millburn's growing enrollment will mean a larger school staff, but just how much bigger than last year remains to be seen.

"It all depends on enrollment," Smithey said.

Smithey, in his 20 years in education, has managed both growth and decline.

He prefers growth.

"It is a lot more pleasant to manage growth than decline," he said.

Smithey succeeds Richard Framke as chief of the school district which serves Linenhurst, Old Mill Creek and Wadsworth.

Education, sometimes, is not just theory and classroom. Sometimes, it involves keeping a building together.

A water problem in the basement caused by a faulty sump pump was the first problem Smithey had to solve. Smithey said he plans to use to basement area for classrooms to accommodate new growth.

"It has a very sound reputation as it offers a sound education. It's kind of rural but it's close to the suburbs," Smithey said when asked why he chose Millburn as the next stop in his education career.

Smithey, a University of Missouri graduate, has worked in both unit districts and kindergarten through eighth grade schools.

"It's easier in a unit district to work in articulation. In a kindergarten through eighth grade school, you have to deal with a separate entity - the high school," the new superintendent said.

Smithey said the outbreak of deannexation bids in Lake County is a new experience for him.

"So many people want to deannex from schools for various reasons. It's a new experience for me," he said.

In terms of the affects of Senate Bill 730, the educational reform act, Smithey said that will mean more forms to fill out for himself and his staff. He added that "not all of the educational reforms are bad".

Teacher evaluations at a local level, for example, would be good because, "you would be surprised how many districts do not do evaluations," Smithey said.

However, the superintendent said he does not favor the strict evaluation testing such as is done in Texas.

"The idea behind that is to take the incompetent teachers out of the classroom. But if you train the teachers right in college, that should not be a problem," Smithey said.

Smithey has been a teacher, principal and administrator. He said he has enjoyed all three facets of education.

Letter To The Editor:

Refutes Article

Editor,

The column written by Mr. Jim Thomson in last week's newspaper deeply upsets me. I take offense with some of the comments he made.

He felt the community was highly upset about nothing. Mr. Thomson lives in Elmhurst. Why would "cancer, sludge, stink, heavy metals, sewage, etc." bother him? The key word in his letter is "several."

"Several" years ago he looked into Hillview Farms. He mentions he took soil samples to the University of Illinois and the University of Wisconsin, then to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in Washington, D.C. This was all "several" years ago. "Several" years ago the gallonage that is now being dumped was not present.

The great saturation that we are now facing was not happening "several" years ago.

As for the fire at Hillview Farms, Mr. Thomson claimed that he had all the facts in the story.

"Regardless of what you think of Arnold May and his sludge operation," Thomson said, "he doesn't deserve such treatment which is tantamount to a wrought-up community acting as judge, jury and executioner."

This implies to me that Mr. Thomson thinks that the citizens of the community committed these acts. I understand the farm is patrolled by a guard and protected by a radar zone. Could this crime have been committed by this wrought-up community under these conditions?

While being no stranger to Richmond and Hillview Farms, Mr. Thomson might consider buying one of the homes in the area and bring up his family. Also he could try to enjoy entertaining friends and family under the conditions in which we live.

He mentioned community leaders making accusations and ignoring reports from experts to enjoy publicity. These leaders don't need publicity on sludge.

The facts Mr. Thomson had several years ago are outdated. The concerned community has recent facts and would like a clean, healthy community in which to live.

Steam Locomotive Rides Available At Museum

There are still three days left in the steam week celebration at the Ill. Railway Museum in Union, Ill.

Steam week started on Aug. 2 and runs until Sunday, Aug. 10.

During this week the steam train runs hourly, starting at noon each day. This affords visitors who are not able to ride the train weekends a chance to do so during the week.

The locomotive in operation will be Frisco 1630.

This 105 ton engine was built in 1918 for Russia but never shipped after WWI.

It was returned to service in 1972 after three years and 13,000 hours of restoration by museum volunteers.

Electric interurban and street car service will also be available on the four mile mainline from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Illinois Railway Museum is a not-for-profit educational corporation, organized in 1953, and is operated by volunteer, unpaid workers. It is supported primarily by contributions and admission fees.

Admission to the museum ($4.50, $2.25 for children) is good for unlimited rides on all equipment running that day. Picnic facilities, a refreshment stand, bookstore, and gift shop are located on the 56 acre grounds.

Boat Ramp Cuts Fees

Effective Aug. 15 the seasonal boat launching fees at Spring Bluff Forest Preserve will be reduced to half price.

According to forest preserve district president, Donald Strenger, this fee reduction has become an annual practice of the forest preserve district to encourage Lake Michigan boaters who have not yet purchased a season pass to take advantage of the Spring Bluff boat ramp for the remainder of the boating season.

Strenger reports that this will be the last season of the forest preserve district's operation of the Spring Bluff boat ramp. The ramps will be turned over to the Illinois Dept. of Conservation as part of the North Point Marina project, however he assures boaters that the Dept. of Conservation plans to continue the boat ramp operation.

PM&L's No Sex Please Is A Jolly Good Show

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Your play reviewer took his father, who is visiting from Birmingham, Ala., to see the veddy British, veddy funny play, "No Sex Please - We're British" playing at PM & L Theatre in Antioch. Since father and son consider it their duty to find some disagreement in everything, we were both surprised to find that the only thing we could disagree on about this show was on just how good it is. Following is the conversation that ensued after the curtain went down:

Son: What a magnificent show! That was the funniest thing this side of Hollywood, don't you agree?

Dad: Simply smashing. Larry Andres in the role of Brian Runicles displayed masterful comic timing. He didn't miss a beat all night. He was rather amusing.

Son: Rather amusing!? You nearly busted a gut laughing. Had you laughed any harder, I would have been forced to call an ambulance. Andres was brilliant - even his throwaway lines got hearty guffaws.

Dad: Well, yes. No doubt he has a marvelous future in comedy. But what about Linda Kay Williams as Francis Hunter? She was perfect, too. Her disdain for her mother-in-law was so convincing that I am certain she must have a problem mother-in-law, herself.

Son: Perhaps, but Micky Mandell as the mother-in-law, Eleanor Hunter, was every prospective bride's nightmare. I was impressed at how convincing most of the cast was with their British accents.

Dad: Oh yes. Jerry Phalen was suitably pompous as Leslie Bromhead, though his accent sounded somewhat like an impression of the voice of Mr. Ed from the old television series. Still, he played the part well enough that one didn't notice after a bit. I thought that Peter Thelen as the male lead, Peter Hunter, was a touch uncertain at times.

Stage Review

Son: Yes, I noticed that, too. Of course he was in an uncertain situation, wasn't he. Also he had what was perhaps the most difficult role as a semi-comic straight man. He had to constantly set up Andres for the flat-out comic lines.

Dad: Tom Hausman in the relatively minor role of Mr. Needham was absolutely marvelous. The interaction between him and the two girls who "tormented" him (Katherine Kramer and Betsy Smouse) was one of the funniest scenes in the entire show.

Son: All in all, I think we can agree that this is one of the best produced, funniest shows we have seen. I give it a hearty thumbs up.

Dad: Absolutely thumbs up. Say, do you think I can get a schedule for when other PM & L productions are playing? Since we come up for visits anyway, I might as well schedule it appropriately.

Son: So there you have it. Two enthusiastic thumbs up for this hilarious production. Be prepared to laugh from start to finish.

"No Sex Please - We're British" is directed by Ken Smouse. The curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m. for the remaining evening performances, scheduled for Aug. 8, 9, 15, and 16. A Sunday matinee will be performed beginning at 2:30 p.m. on Aug. 10. All performances are at the PM & L Theatre in Antioch. For reservations, call (312) 395-3055.

Biggest Top Of All Coming To Town

Ever since the first circus tent was pitched, children and adults alike all act like kids at Christmastime when a circus comes to town.

So it will be Christmas in August when the Carson and Barnes' five-ring, million dollar menagerie comes to the Lake County Fair Grounds in Grayslake, for one day only on Friday, Aug. 15.

Crime Stoppers, Inc., Waukegan, is sponsoring the one day, two show appearance of the highly acclaimed show under the Big Top.

The shows, one at 2 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m., will feature many exotic beasts, some doing their thing in a steel arena.

The show carries 25 elephants, both Asian and African, a giraffe, a white rhinoceros, a hippopotamus, tigers and horses and ponies, a varitable traveling zoo under the "Biggest Top" of all.

Those that attend will see 100 exciting acts featuring performers from 17 different nations.

The "extraordinary" Patricia White, a brave and beautiful lady will face ferocious lions and tigers alone as she puts them through their astounding stunts.

Two five hundred pound lions, Samson and Rex and two new Siberian tigers will jump to the snap of her whip.

Besides the fact that mixing lions and tigers is most dangerous, Ms. White will thrill her audience even more when she has the tigers leap through a flaming hoop that she herself holds fearlessly.

Circus owner D. R. Miller is bringing a big city circus show to entire families all over the nation at small town prices on this present tour.

Talented acrobats will perform a vast array of areobatic and acrobatic tricks, ranging from wire walking, juggling, bareback riding and many daring young people on flying trapezes.

Of course a circus isn't a circus without a circus band a lots of funny clowns.

On the morning of the show 870 units that include trucks, tractors trailers, etc. will flood the fairgrounds to set-up an "enchanted village" the core of which is the great "Big Top" tent.

Carson and Barnes prides itself as being the finest circus there is and so the nominal ticket prices are "cheap at half the price."

It will cost adults $5 to get into the main tent and children $3.

Money can be saved by purchasing tickets before the performance date at the State Bank of Antioch, Antioch, Nanks of Mundelein and the First National Bank of Mundelein. Tickets will be available at the show site on the show date.

Angela Denise Fett, daughter of Charles and Dorothy Fett of Lake Villa, has been named to the spring 1986 Dean's List at Bethel College with a grade point average of 3.711. She is a junior social work major. The Dean's List honors students who achieve an outstanding scholastic record during the spring semester of the 1985-86 school year. A student must earn a grade point average of at least 3.5 to be named to the list. This spring, 355 Bethel students were named to the list.

has been invited to present at the national convention.

A resident of Grayslake, Ems has taught at CLC since 1969. She will teach English pronunciation and vowels for the fall semester. The vowel course will be followed by a consonant course in the spring.

"You, too, can sound more like a native-born American if you don't give up," Ems tells her students. "It takes a lot of work to shake a heavy accent, but it can be done," she said. Ems shows students how to pronounce the sounds of English by physically shaping their mouths, teeth, tongues, jaws and throats.

To Hold Water Ski Tryouts

TWIN LAKES — Good water skiers who would like to join a championship show team, the Aquanuts of Twin Lakes, are invited to tryout Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 11 and 12, at 5 p.m.

Tryouts will be held at Lance Park on the north side of Lake Mary, just off Lance Dr. (Hwy. 6), in the Village of Twin Lakes.

Bill Bachrodt, president of the Aquanuts, said: "We'll be looking at skiers 10-13 years of age for our junior team, and from 14 years old and up for the seniors, or regular Aquanuts."

Candidates are asked to bring their own equipment, especially skis, life jackets and/or wet suits. However, barefooters are also welcome. There are facilities for changing clothing at the tryout site.

Some paperwork is necessary at registration time. In order to expedite matters, hopefuls are asked to report at least 15 minutes earlier than tryout time. Parents are also invited to tryouts.

Questions can be answered by phoning President Bachrodt, at (414) 877-2526.

Reveal Details Of Secret Lawsuit Deal

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

According to several highly placed sources, Lake County officials nearly completed a deal with the owners of Heartland last week that would have left the 1,827-acre parcel which lies to the south of Grayslake and to the southeast of Round Lake Park free to develop as part of unincorporated Lake County. Partners in the group that seeks to develop Heartland include the First National Bank of Chicago (First Chicago) as trustholder for a pension fund and the Chicago-based Levy Organization. The sources added that the county board may act on the agreement as early as next Tuesday, Aug. 12.

Sources said that the main features of the deal, which was stalled when the Grayslake Village Board balked at an executive session on July 28, were:

--Heartland would de-annex from Round Lake Park (the Village of Round Lake Park gave developers the right to unilaterally disconnect in an annexation agreement dated Jan. 14, 1981)

--Heartland would not be required to annex to Grayslake, except for the portion known as North Mills, which is separate from the rest of the property and lies at the northeast corner of Grayslake.

--Heartland would be allowed to develop its property as part of unincorporated Lake County but would develop the central region of the development as low density. No definition of low density was mentioned in the tentative agreement.

--Grayslake, which has a "sphere of influence" that allows it to deny sewer service to some developments outside its corporate boundaries, including Heartland, would allow developers to tie in to the Northeast Regional Sanitary Dist.

--Heartland would be allowed to develop property which lies at the intersection of Peterson Rd. and Rte. 83 as a landfill.

--Heartland would drop its pending lawsuit against the county and the Village of Grayslake.

The battle between Heartland on one side and the county and Village of Grayslake on the other, began after Round Lake Park annexed the property on Jan. 14, 1981 at standards far below those prevailing in partners in the development that frankly admitted that the annexation to Round Lake Park was a ploy to force the hand of the Village of Grayslake.

"We need to hold a lot of cards in our next game with Grayslake and believe that "After...years of fighting, the county has...the upper hand and now they want to give it away."

the rest of the county. That agreement approved a gross density of over eight units per acre, provided for only eight percent of the land to be used as open space, and made no clear provisions as to how sewer, water, and roads were to be provided and who was to pay for putting in such services.

In June of 1985, officials were stunned when county attorneys unearthed a confidential memo between the our activity with Round Lake Park is the trump," the memo said.

Proponents of the proposed agreement among the developers, county, and Grayslake say that it represents "an easy solution to two difficult problems" - that is, where to put a landfill in the county and how to end the legal battle with Heartland.

Critics maintain that this is no solution at all. They point out that in the last year and a half, the county has won the related Alter suit (which sought damages in an anti-trust action against the county, Grayslake, and numerous public officials) and that there have been several Supreme Court decisions on similar matters which have strengthened the county's position.

"After five years of fighting, the county has finally gotten the upper hand and now they want to give it all away," said one source. "Jim Labelle and Fred Foreman tried to hold a gun at the head of Grayslake officials; they told them to take this deal or defend it on your own."

Mike Graham, former county board member and Republican candidate for election in Dist. 5 this November, said that the county, which already has three landfills, does not need another.

"When we incinerate inseparable municipal waste, there is evidence that it produces dioxyn, which many experts believe causes cancer," Graham said.

"This settlement talk is nothing new. When I was on the county board between 1982 and '84, I was on the committee that was involved in settlement talks. The developers wanted an incinerator then and I have always been opposed to it."

"Nothing has changed since it seemed like a good idea to file a lawsuit against it. There is no reason to settle now."

Graham added that he was not privy to details of the latest settlement proposal.

Lake County Board Chairman James LaBelle, would not comment on specific details but did confirm that settlement talks have been going on since last fall.

LaBelle said that the county was in a strong legal position and was dealing from strength. He cautioned that anyone who has discussed details of the proposal is "acting outside of the legal process." Asked if he intended to take action to find and prosecute such sources, LaBelle chose not to comment.

You won't be such a Cowardly Lion after you visit North Point Medical/Dental Center's "Road To Oz"

Some very interesting events will take place August 9 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., at the clinic. Don't be surprised to meet Dorothy Gale or the Wicked Witch of the West or even Toto too!

North Point Medical/Dental Clinic will be hosting our second annual Child Identification Day with a new twist. The event will be named The Road To Oz and will include guided tours for children down the Yellow Brick Road of Oz which just happens to run through the clinic confines.

The children will become acquainted with the clinic services by visiting the nutrition center and the dentist office where a short film will be shown. While on tour they will receive balloons, toys, fruit and most importantly their own identification folder containing their photograph, fingerprints and vital statistics.

He pointed out that he is at a disadvantage because he will honor the confidentiality of the negotiations. Asked if there would be an opportunity for the public to comment on the proposal before it was approved, LaBelle said there would be public discussion. Asked if that meant a public hearing or just discussion at the county board on the day it would be approved, LaBelle said that there would be public discussion at the county board.

One source guffawed at this and said, "yeah, there'll be public discussion - after it's too late for anybody to do anything."

Sources are unclear as to when the full county board will consider the matter in open session, but some fear that an effort will be made to put the matter to a vote next Tuesday, Aug. 12.

If that happens and the settlement is passed, residents of Avon, Fremont, Libertyville, and Warren Twps. could find a high-density project and landfill in their backyard without ever having had the opportunity to examine or comment on the agreement.

Allendale's President Speaks

A major emphasis of the state director's conference was "Least Restrictive Environment" considerations.

Representing Allendale School of Lake Villa were president, Robert Holway; director of special education, Lucille Eber; and intake supervisor, Robert Mount.

This conference, which is always attended by special education directors, program supervisors, and school placement coordinators from around the state, featured four workshops on issues surrounding education-related placements in private residential centers.

The Illinois State Board of Education and the Child Care Assn. agreed that one of the agendas for this seminar was to "promote a dialogue between the public and private sector." There were three conference tracks dealing with these issues.

Allendale's president has long been a leader in the State of Illinois in bringing together the public and private sector. His efforts have been recognized by both parties and he was selected as a speaker for this conference.

Allendale has been receiving public sector placements for a number of years through its day education program-Stepping Stone. This program is the only one of its type in Illinois and is co-educational.

Allendale will be participating in the exhibit area and will be showing, as a premier, its new audio-visual on "Education in the Residential Center...the Allendale Family."

Offer Program

Clubs and organizations interested in a free program on business attributes in Lake County can contact the Economic Development Commission to book a speaker and the 14-minute presentation "Lake County Illinois By the Numbers."

Program chairpersons may call (312) 360-6350, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. to arrange a date and time.

I wonder how Mommy got so smart about babies.

Whether a woman has experienced childbirth or is due to be a first-time mother, Rock-A-Bye Club offers many exciting opportunities to prepare for the new baby. Northern Illinois Medical Center's year-round, free prenatal series covering all three trimesters of pregnancy is designed for mothers and fathers, includes a special night for grandparents, and features a Sunday afternoon session for the newcomer's siblings. The Early Bird Classes for the first three months are especially important to first time mothers. The second trimester is covered by the Round Two Classes, and the third trimester is called the Home Stretch. For those women anticipating a cesarean delivery, there is a special class offered for both parents.

NIMC offers the on-going prenatal series so that an expectant mother may enter the classes at the time she feels is right for her. It is suggested that the parents-to-be attend the full series for complete prenatal instruction.

The classes offer ample opportunity for parents to ask questions about the physical and emotional changes that occur during pregnancy, as well as the adjustments that must be made as a couple and with other children. Truly family-centered, the education series is an excellent resource for parents. For information on Rock-A-Bye Club, the free classes and NIMC's entire maternity service, call 815/344-5000, and ask for the Rock-A-Bye Coordinator. NIMC knows all about your great expectations.

4-H Has Busy, Rewarding Season Of Accomplishment

The Town and Country 4-H Club of Antioch has completed a very successful year including several County Fair winners.

A Grand Champion ribbon was awarded to Christy Robinson, who also received a Homemakers Award for her clothing entry. Kellie Scollay and Shelley Kudingo received ribbons for their First Aid demonstration at the County Contest. They will represent Lake County at the Illinois State Fair. Marlee Kuhn received one for her Food Preservation entry. Shelley Kudingo also received one in First Aid and for her Read-A-Book poster.

A Reserve Grand Champion was given to C. Robinson in stitchery. "A" ribbons were given to Jamie Davis, Becky Davis and Dawn Vitek in Foods; Kellie Scollay and Liz Klauss in

Read-A-Book; Marcie Scheskie in Living History; Andrea Kuhn in Horseless Horse; and Tara Ryan received a "B" ribbon in Read-A-Book.

Christy Robinson has gone to Japan as part of the 4-H Japanese Labo program. Her family hosted a Japanese girl for two summers and this year Christy is spending five weeks at the home of her Japanese "sister." The purpose of this program is to promote good will and friendship experiences between peoples of the world.

Dawn Vitek went on the Citizenship Focus trip to Springfield. She learned how our state government works. The entire 4-H delegation was introduced to the governor and the legislators from our area.

Other accomplishments of the year included Share the Fun, in which the club received a Reserve Grand Champion ribbon. At the monthly meetings, Police Chief Miller spoke on safety, D. Rummel on health. Displays on the National 4-H Week and People to People Activity were placed in the library. A tour of Sara Lee and a picnic with the Japanese guest and the Grayslake Eager Beavers helped to complete a very successful year.

'Goofers' Go Hawaiian

The Monday Night Golfers, an Antioch ladies' golf league, held its annual fun day at Bristol Oaks Country Club with a Hawaiian theme. On the winning team were, left, Maggie Murphy, Lake Villa, and Barb Gesiakowski, Antioch.

Mental Health Assn. Hears From Dr. Donald Skidmore

The Antioch Mental Health Assn. held its most recent meeting at the home of Louise Vos.

The group had Dr. Donald Skidmore, superintendent of Antioch Elementary Schools, as its guest. Dr. Skidmore spoke on special education needs. The association voted to help with these needs.

The group also voted to donate more learning games and material to the Antioch Library. The many games that were donated several years ago were appreciated both by the children and the parents of children with special needs.

Dorothy Teister announced that the 1987 Cotillion will be held at Nippersink Resort near Twin Lakes on May 9 next year. An attractive golf and overnight package will be available for the weekend. The musical group, Arcade, will again provide dance music.

The Antioch Mental Health Assn. is able to fund all these special projects and donate to Grove School, Lamba Farm, and Riverside Foundation through income from The Thrift Shop at 921 Main St. and the annual Cotillion.

Pet Of The Week

Michelle Veltman, Antioch, is pictured here with her pet, two year old Scoundrel, a keeshond. Michelle will be entering Scoundrel in novice and showmanship at the Kenosha County Fair, and has put lots of effort into preparation. This is her third year in the Kenosha County 4-H dog project. Scoundrel likes to sleep with a blanket in his mouth and is occasionally treated to "people food." Michelle will be a sophomore at Antioch Community High School. Besides canine-oriented activities, Michelle enjoys band, guard and the 4-H clown project. Michelle's family also have another dog and a cat. If you would like to see your pet in our weekly spotlight, just contact the editor of this newspaper. —Photo by Cindy Kujak.

Bikers Getting Ready For Aug. 17 Event

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER

Members of the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service are presently completing plans for their upcoming bike-a-thon, sponsored by the Lake County Farm Bureau. It will be held on Sunday, Aug. 17, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. (no riders will be permitted to start after 9 a.m.).

Riders will be offered their choice of three routes: a 20-mile route from the County fairgrounds to Wadsworth Rd. and back, a 50-mile route and a special option of riding an exercycle at the cooperative extension building.

All riders will receive a free T-shirt and will be able to compete for numerous prizes based on the number of pledges they obtain and the number of miles they ride. The top three prizes are Schwinn 10-speed bicycles. A free continental breakfast and lunch will be served to all with fruit and juice provided at all the check points. Following the ride, games and entertainment will be provided. (who will have energy to play games after riding 20-50 miles?)

The Cooperative Extension Service is funded by county, state and federal funding. The bike-a-thon is being held in order to raise funds to help offset anticipated budget cuts from the Gramm-Rudman Act. With all these incentives, now is the time to not only support a good cause, but also get that healthy exercise that you've been promising yourself. For further information, or to register, please call (312) 223-8627.

Kramer Says Racetrack Development Still Alive

The proposed racetrack in Old Mill Creek will be considered at the November session of the Illinois legislature.

"We have been assured by Gov. (Jim) Thompson that the racetrack will be considered at the outset of the fall veto session in Springfield," John Kramer told the Zion Chamber of Commerce July 31.

Kramer, president of Heartland Developers, which is developing the proposed site in Old Mill Creek for Arlington Park owner Richard Duchossois, said the present timetable has the annexation and zoning agreements in place by October with a December groundbreaking if the necessary legislative package is passed.

The opening of the site is still slated for the 1988 racing season.

This summer, because of conflicts between racetrack supporters and Illinois Senate President Phillip Rock (D-Oak Park) a race industry package was not called to a vote during the legislative session.

"If Lake County and the Village of Old Mill Creek had their way, we would have groundbreaking in September," Kramer said. "They got caught up in a lot of issues not related to racing but having everything to do with the legislative politics in Springfield."

Kramer, former head of the ill-fated 1992 World's Fair in Chicago, director of the Regional Transportation Authority and Illinois Secretary of Transportation, gave an upbeat message to the group of Zion businessmen.

"We're optimistic. This county was built on optimism. We're prepared to tie our fate to Lake County because Lake County is a winner," Kramer said.

Kramer announced the size of the proposed racetrack-equestrian community in Old Mill Creek has grown. Originally planned for 1,700 acres in Newport Twp., it is now 2,400 acres.

The additional 700 acres were acquired on the condition that the track be built from adjacent land up for sale. Kramer said the purpose was to prevent development "inconsistent" with proposals.

The Newport Twp. area in question is boarded on Illinois 173 on the north, Kelly Rd. on the south, Hunt Club Rd. on the east and Crawford Rd. on the west.

Kramer said he has met with the Wadsworth Village Board and Newport Twp. to discuss such areas as access and zoning.

He said meetings with local and county leaders has been beneficial.

In addition to the racetrack, plans call for housing including single-family; a resort-hotel-office complex; and two golf courses.

Popp To Head Voter Push

Lake County Republican Chairman Robert P. Neal, in cooperation with the Thompson/Ryan campaign staff, has appointed Fred Popp of Lake Villa to be the Lake County voter registration coordinator for the 1986 Thompson/Ryan gubernatorial campaign.

Popp has been active in Republican Party events for 40 years, serving as precinct committeeman, Republican Club officer, and Republican Federation member.

Popp also has been elected to several governmental positions, including Lake Villa Twp. Clerk, Twp. Supervisor, Lake County Board Member from Dist. 4.

The voter registration segment of the campaign is of particular importance since it impacts directly upon the entire Republican ticket.

"The off-year (non-presidential) turnout has fallen short of expectations in the past," Popp said, "and it is the job of all of us to prevent this from occurring in 1986. I gladly accept the responsibility for this effort."

Neal said, "Fred knows Lake County; he knows what it takes to win an election, and he has the respect of everyone I know in the Republican Party."

To fulfill Lake County's part of this statewide effort, volunteers to help identify unregistered citizens and deputy registrars to register new voters are needed. Anyone who wishes to help in this effort should contact Fred Popp at (312) 356-5440, or Republican Headquarters at (312) 623-0235.

60 Delegates Serve County At Convention

More than 60 delegates from Lake County joined over 2,000 Republicans from around the state at the 1986 Republican State Convention held at the Hyatt O'Hare Exposition Center in Rosemont. Held on July 25 and 26, the first day was devoted to working committees, platform writing, and other chores in preparation for the opening gavel at 9:30 a.m. on July 26.

Governor James Thompson was greeted with enthusiastic applause as he gave the opening address. While telling the delegates that outlook for the party was good this November, he warned against overconfidence.

"Unless all the people who are answering (our polltakers') phone calls put on their coats and go to the polls in November, we can be in serious trouble," Thompson said.

One of the largest demonstrations at the convention occurred when the 60 Lake County delegates led 300 others in a show of support for Adeline Geo-Karis, Republican candidate for comptroller.

Geo-Karis thanked her supporters and urged the party faithful to register voters and to bring out the 350,000 voters who do not normally vote in non-presidential election years.

Lake County Republican Chairman Robert Neal, of Wadsworth, said, "I'm proud of the numbers and quality of the Lake County delegation. I'm sure that the Lake County presence will send a message to the rest of the state that Adeline Jay Geo-Karis and Lake County are going to be winners in 1986."

In The Public's Interest

The revelation of details of a secret deal on Heartland being negotiated between the county, developers, and Village of Grayslake have drawn cries of "foul" from Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman.

Foreman suggested that the "leak" might have been designed to drive up property values and that his office would vigorously attempt to find and punish the leakers.

We suspect that Foreman's threats were designed to prevent further details of the proposed deal from surfacing. The more details that come to light, the clearer it is that county officials, particularly Fred Foreman and Lake County Board Chairman Jim LaBelle, are willing to sell west Lake County down the river to get any sort of settlement in the pending Heartland lawsuit.

The proposed settlement is worse than the agreement that originally got the county involved over five years ago. Under the secret deal, Heartland would not have to annex to any municipality, would be allowed to put up a landfill and incinerator at the intersection of Rte. 83 and Peterson Rd., and is asked to maintain low density in the central range. The definition of low density is, apparently, left to the developers. Keep in mind that these are developers who once tried to include public roads in their calculation of open space.

Originally, the county got involved because the Heartland developers had gotten approval for extremely high density that would have put incredible demands upon roads, sewer, and water in west Lake County without any realistic provisions for how such services would be provided. For five years, as the related Alter suit wound its way through the courts, it was not certain who was going to win.

In the last year, though, there have been three Supreme Court decisions which have strengthened the county's position. The county won the Alter suit. It took a while, but now the county holds all the cards. So why do they suddenly want to fold?

According to several sources, Jim LaBelle has said several times that this would be an "easy solution to two difficult problems," i.e. the Heartland suit and the landfill problem. An easier solution would have been to never get involved in the Heartland problem to begin with. But there was a compelling reason to do so five years ago - the overall good of this county. That reason is still compelling.

The developers have been quoted as saying that the landfill "is not negotiable." That is as cheeky as the story of the boy who killed his parents and then pleaded for mercy because he was "just a poor orphan."

Had the developers shown any regard for the needs of this area in the first place, there would never have been a problem. If recent decisions of the Supreme Court had not made it clear that it is extremely unlikely that Heartland can win its suit, the developers would not now be seeking a settlement.

If Msrs. Foreman and LaBelle were less inclined to fold a winning hand, the developers would have to settle on the county's terms or face final defeat and loss of more money in the courts.

Contrary to Foreman's spluttering about unprincipled leakers, those sources who revealed this secret deal before it was foisted on local property owners as a done deal should be congratulated for acting in the public interest.

Rekindling Cooperation

Well-meaning public officials frequently act to the disservice of taxpayers when they fail to communicate with other representatives of local government. It's the old "lack of communications" bugaboo in which are steeped the problems of mistrust and misunderstanding.

Mayor Edwin M. Schroeder of Grayslake hopes to erase, or at least minimize, differences arising between various governmental bodies because of communications breakdowns by bringing together leaders of Grayslake's various taxing bodies at an open forum at 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 11. The mayor specifically is aiming at a cooperative effort to limit the impact on ever increasing property taxes on residents of Grayslake.

Mayor Schroeder is to be lauded for his personal interest in advancing inter-governmental relations. Quite simply, various community leaders all have the same goal—working for community betterment. But it doesn't always work out when individual egos and personal goals and aims come into play. We have seen cooperation between different governmental bodies work for the common good. Unfortunately, the spirit of cooperation is a fragile feeling. Once again, we wish the Grayslake project well and hope that yet another attempt at intergovernmental cooperation works this time.

Bullish On Bears

We were glad to see the Bears back on the field again for several reasons - not the least of which is the el floppo foldo act both of our local baseball teams have performed this summer. They may not repeat as Superbowl champions, but the Bears are almost certain to hold our interest and keep our enthusiasm high into a new year.

That's not a bad thing, considering the sort of summer many have had. All across the land, insurance rates have skyrocketed. In the southeast, there has been a terrible drought which will undoubtedly cause prices to rise at the supermarket. Students at Warren don't know if some of their classmates will move to Libertyville and administrators aren't sure if they'll have the money to get through the year. As if foisting a lousy baseball team on us were not enough, Einhorn and Reinsdorf suggested that if taxpayer's don't come across with a lot of dough, the Chicago White Sox may soon be the Memphis Carpetbaggers.

Take comfort, though: the Bears are back. When Richard Dent crunches a quarterback, local officials can pretend it's an insurance underwriter. When Otis Wilson strips the ball from an opposing rusher, Warren administrators can pretend they are grabbing a check from the governor. When a highly touted team comes in ready to whip the Bears and discovers, after the first quarter, that they aren't going anywhere, we can all pretend it's Msrs. Einhorn and Reinsdorf.

So sit back, relax, and let the Bears take out your hostilities for you. Between exhibitions, the regular season, and playoffs, the Bears are only 22 games away from Superbowl XXI. Let the countdown begin.

Fame Following Burning Interest In Word Games

by BILL SCHROEDER

Celebrity status is not always a ceaseless stream of newspaper headlines and television interviews. Sometimes it's a quiet path with a brief blip in the limelight.

That's the way it has worked out for Rebecca Kornbluh, 35, two-time national crossword champion who is getting ready to defend her title Saturday, Aug. 16.

Ordinarily, she leads a quiet life, tending her home on a shaded street in Mundelein, being an attentive wife to her ex-Navy officer husband, pursuing her vocation of weaving—and working crossword puzzles.

Once a year though, Rebecca turns into a veritable crossword tiger and rushes off to New York City, her hometown, to compete in the Games/Merriam-Webster U.S. Open Crossword Championship, a one-day event bringing together the nation's outstanding crossword puzzle workers who seek a fling at fame and a modest fortune. A total of $3,250 in cash prizes is at stake for the 20 finalists, including a grand prize of $1,500. Obviously, crossword enthusiasts aren't in the competition for money.

Competition is fairly well-covered by the New York City press and last year Kornbluh was interviewed on a morning tv show. "I enjoy the competition, it's a trip home and it's a wonderful feeling when you complete a tough puzzle," Kornbluh remarked. She described the exultation of skimming through a tough puzzle as "breaking your head." As for celebrity status, Rebecca takes that in stride, pointing out, "My neighbors think it's sort of neat."

Rebecca trains for the nationals by working a variety of 10 crosswords and puzzles a day. She "cruises" through the Sunday New York Times crossword, regarded by most crossword fans as the standard mark of attainment, in 10 minutes. "That's slow. In the tournament, you have to be able to work a puzzle like the Sunday Times in about nine minutes to compete," she related.

For the rest of us crossword novices, how do you work yourself into world class shape with paper and pencil?

"You have to have an interest in words. You have to like reading—anything," mentioned Kornbluh, who majored in German in college. "I enjoy reading the dictionary. Above all, you have to enjoy seeing how fast you can work a puzzle."

Lake County's gift to the world of crosswords and word games has noticed a big change in puzzle making. "Off-beat words about obscure places and strange animals are being replaced by pop culture and modern science," she stated.

"So we don't have to worry about keeping up with the aardvark and gnus anymore." Enter a new world fellow crossword workers, and good luck, Rebecca.

POWER CENTER — The doors will be "flung open" Sept. 13 when Republican presidential hopefuls are showcased at a gathering at Arlington Park Hilton sponsored by northern Illinois congressmen.

Confirmed speakers include Congressmen Jack Kemp, Pat Robertson, former Sec. of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, Senate leader Robert Dole and former U.N. Ambassador Jeanne Kirkpatrick. Also invited are Vice President George Bush, former Sen. Howard Baker, former Delaware Gov. Pete DuPont, former Sec. of State Alexander Haig and Republican Party Chairman Paul Laxalt.

There will be room for 1,200 persons to attend. You can get on the invitation list by calling your congressman. John Porter (10th) in commenting on the program, called it a meeting "to see whose presidential timber is most likely to catch fire."

BIG JOB—This is no joke! The Lake County Crime Stoppers, sponsors of the Carson & Barnes traveling circus that will play Friday, August 15, at the Lake County Fairgrounds, has to cart away 12 cubic yards of elephant manure left by the show's 25 elephants.

"That's for real," exclaimed Mike Halliday, executive director of Crime Stoppers, when queried by this writer if a free fertilizer offer was only part of circus hype.

"It's in our contract," Halliday added with a grin. "We've also got to make sure that 3,800 gallons of water is available for the elephants during their stay." Halliday, who quickly is becoming somewhat of an expert on elephants, pointed out that the stuff picked up by the guys who follow the performing elephants makes better fertilizer than cow manure. He can be contacted at 662-2222 for anyone who wants to take him up on the offer.

RUNNING, WRITING—Political observers are wondering whether John Leonardi, Democratic nominee for Congress from the 12th District, will be doing more writing than running. So far the Fox River Grove resident's public contact has been mostly through press releases.

Leonardi, who is challenging incumbent Republican Phil Crane, has taken the position that the tax reform bill "is a blessing for all, especially the middle income and the poor." Crane, an acknowledged expert on fiscal matters, shudders at new tax proposals.

BEST WISHES—Congratulations to Sheriff and Mrs. Babcox on the ordination of their son into the Presbyterian ministry. The Rev. Neil Babcox has taken a pastorate in northern New Jersey following graduation from the Princeton University Seminary.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Barin has taken to sneaking into cars to get a refreshing ride for relief from the summer heat. The family is struggling how to deal with a 145-pound German shepherd stowaway. No one leaves the driveway anymore without checking the backseat.

The Pig Is An Intelligent Animal

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Did you know that Americans consume 15 billion pounds of pork a year? Pigs consume half of the nation's corn crop.

This article may come as a surprise to you as I speak about them as pets. The pig is one of the most intelligent of domestic animals. The pig can be easily trained to do tricks. They must be taught with love and understanding, however.

Pet-Wise

The pig may be large, but he can be a good pet. He has about 20 different calls and man can understand about six of them. The pig does not overeat as many people might think.

There are many famous pigs which most of us are familiar with. The kids know about Miss Piggy and Porky Pig. Those of you who watched the television show "Green Acres" remember Arnold. The story of Charlotte's Web had a pig named Wilbur in it.

The largest pig on record was Big Red, weighing in at about 2,660 pounds.

If you wanted to insult someone you may say something like: "You're a pig;" "You pighead;" or "Stop hogging everything." If you don't believe a person, you might say, "Hogwash." Your kids might be going "hog wild." All these things came about as being insults because people have believed that the pig is smelly, dirty and stupid. This is not the case.

I am going to hog out and tell you the story of the pig, Priscilla, who saved the day for one little boy and his mother.

Priscilla belongs to Victoria Herberta. In June of 1984 Victoria brought home a six-week-old weanling. She had always wanted a pig. This one was named Priscilla. She found her much more intelligent and easier to train than she thought. The pig was house-trained and moved into the house with the rest of the family. The pig soon learned to like car rides, people food, and after a long time, she came to enjoy swimming.

The first time that Priscilla was introduced to the water of the Brazos River in Houston, Texas, the little pig screamed and hollered. People thought Victoria was trying to drown Priscilla. It took a few more times before the pig took to the water. Then, the only reason Priscilla went swimming was because she liked people and they liked swimming with her.

The pig always wore her purple harness with a leash on it while she was out. On this day it became important that she had.

It was the afternoon of July 29, 1984, at Lake Somerville. Carol Burk was taking a dip with her son who is retarded. Anthony was playing in the shallow water one minute and the next he had gotten into deep water.

His terrified mother called to Anthony to grab hold of Priscilla. The boy was flailing and had gone down a couple of times before the pig came close enough to get ahold of the harness. Both of them went under and then the pig managed to come up and she was dragging the boy behind.

Afterwards, Priscilla was trembling and exhausted.

She would not swim in a river or lake ever again.

This pig became a celebrity and many honors were given to her. One special award given to her was the American Humane Society's prestigious Stillman Award. This is given to animals who risk their lives to save humans. During all of this, Priscilla had style, class, and was a perfect lady.

Then one day Priscilla got into the morning glories and became very sick. She was stoned. There is a toxin in morning glories that can affect animals and humans.

Victoria knew that she would have to return her beloved pet to life on the farm. Life there would be less stressful and far better for Priscilla. She could visit her there. Still Victoria was broken-hearted and cried for weeks.

She hopes and dreams that someday she'll be able to buy a small farm where she can keep all her pets, including Priscilla.

Easy Spanish And French— Potato Salad, That Is!

I took French in high school and, frankly, I was lucky to get a passing grade. Likewise, Spanish, in college.

I do considerably better in the kitchen when it comes to French or Spanish food.

Today's lesson is potato salad.
It isn't particularly difficult to prepare French or Spanish potato salad.

Spanish Potato Salad

8 medium boiled potatoes in jackets
1/2 cup margarine, melted
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1/3 cup minced green pepper
1/3 cup minced onion
1/4 cup chopped pimento
Peel potatoes; dice and place in large salad bowl. In another bowl, combine margarine, vinegar, salt, sugar, mustard and black pepper. Add green pepper, onion and pimento; stir and pour over warm potatoes before serving.

French Potato Salad

8 medium boiled potatoes in jackets
1 cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped shallots
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/4 cup wine vinegar
3 tablespoons dry white wine
1/2 teaspoon dried tarragon
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Pilot Light

GREG MELIKOV

1/2 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon chopped chives
1 hard-cooked egg, sliced

Peel potatoes and cut in 1/4-inch slices; place in salad bowl with celery and shallots. In another bowl, combine salt, pepper, vinegar and wine; stir in tarragon, parsley and oil. Pour mixture over potatoes; toss lightly until all liquids are absorbed. Garnish with chives and egg. Serve warm or at room temperature.

Conducted by LFH Physical Therapist Candice Felder, an experienced instructor and mother of two, each class will include a short workout for both moms and babies followed by a longer period just for mothers.

The class will meet twice weekly on Tuesdays and Fridays from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the hospital's conference center. The fee is $45 per mother and each participant must have her obstetrician's approval before beginning the series.

The "Workout for Moms and Babies" series will be offered continuously, with the second eight-week session slated to begin Oct. 14. For additional information, or to register, call Lake Forest Hospital's Physical Therapy Dept. at (312) 234-5600, ext. 6520.

ON PEAK ALERT DAYS, IT PAYS TO USE LESS.

On Peak Alert days the extra-high demand for electricity tests our ability to provide all the power you need.

If we announce a Peak Alert, it means our thrifty coal and nuclear generators can't do the job alone. We have to use less efficient generators, too. And all of us pay that extra expense on our electric bills.

You can lower your energy bills this summer.

Every summer day, and especially when we've issued a Peak Alert, adopt some of these energy-saving, money-saving habits:

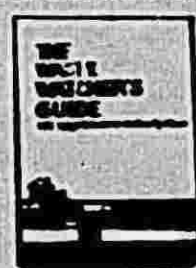

If you stay indoors:

- Set your air conditioner at 78° or higher.
- Keep your curtains closed so the sun's hot rays will stay outside.
- Wash your clothes and run your dishwasher on a cool day.
- Use all large appliances before 9 AM or after 10 PM.
- Open your refrigerator only when necessary.

Switch to outdoor activities:

- Head to the beach or find a refreshing pool.
- Dry your clothes outdoors.
- Cook on charcoal instead of the stove. Or don't cook at all—try a light sandwich or salads.

Ask for our free Waste Watcher's Guide:

It lists 101 things you can do to save energy every day. For your copy, write: Energy Information, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690. And in the meantime, remember that when there's a Peak Alert, it pays to use less.

Profits Can Soar When The Stock Market Bombs

As the stock market plunged these past two weeks, most investors were licking their wounds, but some savvy investors made money—they were the short sellers.

"While most investors do not rejoice as the stock market falls, short sellers thrive, and always do, when the market is bearish or makes a temporary downward correction," said Mark Klibanow, stock expert with E.F. Hutton and Co.

Short selling creates profit from the declines in a stock's price. It is high risk, can be very profitable and is not intended for the faint of heart.

In ordinary stock purchases, the speculator is trading stocks he owns. Short selling allows a speculator to trade securities that he borrows rather than owns. Here is how it works:

The speculator borrows stock, usually from investor accounts controlled by a broker.

Brokerage firms either borrow from their own inventory or from other firms to meet the demands of those wishing to sell short. A stockbroker must have express written permission from his clients to loan their stock, at no risk to them. The shares of stock in a broker's care are available to borrowers, just as money deposited in a bank is available for car or home loans.

The short seller sells the borrowed stock at a high price, hoping to replace it later when stock price falls.

At some time in the future, the speculator must return the stock he borrowed, typically using the cash from his initial stock sale. (This is called covering your short position.) If the price of the stock dropped, the speculator makes money, because he repurchases the stock at its new price, and pockets the difference. But, if the value of the stock went higher, the speculator could lose everything.

Suppose you've been observing the progress of issues of YIKES Inc. and it's been going up and up. It's currently trading at $50. You think it's overpriced. Maybe it's been moving up too fast compared to the rest of the market.

For a multitude of reasons, you believe YIKES Inc. is headed for a significant decline. You go to your broker and borrow 100 shares, for a short sale.

You sell the stock immediately, at a price of $50 per share. The proceeds of the short sale are credited to your account with the broker and are held until your short position is covered.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

If the stock goes lower, the speculator's profit is locked in. If the stock goes higher, the speculator has limited his loss in advance. This is often called a "stop-loss."

Without a stop-buy order, a little bad luck could be devastating. The price of stock can only fall to zero, limiting the profit. But, there is no limit on how high it can rise. If you borrow stock at $50, and then have to repay it at $60, $70, $90, or $110 a share, the loss could be enormous.

Just like buying on margin, you can be subject to a call for more cash or collateral if the stock rises and your investment looks shaky, technically called "marked to the market."

Short selling accounts for a relatively small amount of activity in the stock market. One of the major reasons is risk. Though quick profits are possible, so are big losses. And like any kind of borrowing, the borrowing of stock for short selling requires a solid credit background. If you lose, the broker will, nonetheless, collect his debt.

There is no time limit on when a stock loan is to be repayed. However, it is subject to the need for return by the lending individual. Should stock be in short supply and the lending investor has an immediate need for his stock, which the broker cannot replace, the short seller could be forced to settle his account without any warning.

Short selling is not suitable for development of a nestegg retirement account. So, don't use your rent money or your old-age pension.

But if you have an iron constitution, extra cash, the inclination, some expertise, and are convinced that the market will fall, short selling may be for you.

Three Builders Will Join Hunt Club Farms

Three of Lake County's best known custom builders have announced plans to build homes at Hunt Club Farms, a 621-acre equestrian residential community located on Hunt Club Road just north of Grand Ave.

The three, Country Estates, Lucas Co. and Interlaken Construction, will all break ground in the next few weeks on homes ranging in price from $330,000 to $560,000, according to B.J. Spathies, president of Hunt Club Farms.

Country Estates is the winner of a 1985 Gold Key Award for the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago. Partner Timothy O'Leary says the company plans to build eight lavishly detailed "showplace" homes, priced from $350,000 to $600,000.

Lucas, led by Scott Lucas, has been building finely crafted country homes and stables for the past 15 years. His first home at Hunt Club Farms will be a two-story, New England Cape Cod with cedar clapboard siding and three-car garage.

Mark Loeb, who heads Interlaken Construction, is a second-generation custom builder known for both unique design and quality construction. His first Hunt Club offering will be a two-story, 4,000-square-foot home with cathedral ceiling.

Hunt Club Farms offers 120 homesites of two to 12 acres along with extensive equestrian facilities, including 10 miles of fenced trails, a jump course, some 30 acres of open pasture and a planned new equestrian center with stables, indoor and outdoor arenas and paddocks.

Eighty percent of the homesites in Phase I have been purchased since the development opened May 31, Spathies says.

To reach Hunt Club Farms, Rd., take the Grand Avenue West exit off I-94.

Turn north on Hunt Club Rd. and west on Stearns School Rd. The visitors center is open from 10 a.m. daily. For additional information, call (312) 356-0120.

License Case

Rich Case, Lake Villa, one of Trans-Air Corps. own mechanics, has successfully completed the testing for an authorized inspectors license.

Recognized as one of the hardest ratings to receive, it is no small feat to take and pass the tests for this rating.

With the addition of Case on the inspectors staff, Trans-Air feel that they have the top quality inspectors that customers demand.

We stand ready to service your aircraft when needed.

Via Horse And Buggy

Excessive rains have delayed road construction at Hunt Club Farms, near Gurnee, making it impossible to tour the property by car. Four-wheel-drive vehicles were another problem, creating huge ruts in the unpaved roads. The dilemma was finally solved with a little horse sense. Visitors to the equestrian residential development, featuring two-to-12-acre homesites, now view the property via horse and buggy.

Meet King James 1st, A Petty Politician

by JOHN STEINKE

On April 2, 1985, Lake Villa Twp. voters thought that they were electing a highway commissioner. They didn't know that they were creating a monarchy. King James (The First) Semmerling was conceived by the Twp. Improvement Party (TIP), born of frustration with the Fred Popp administration and coronated with enthusiastic voter support. Since his election, King James has placed himself above the U.S. Constitution and his constituency.

Before I describe Semmerling's abusive behavior, my 12 readers should know that I have sinned in the voting booth. Being a Lake Villa Twp. resident, I voted for Semmerling's election. With vacant eyes and high hopes, I punched out Semmerling's ballot number. Dumb me voted for the guy with the Leon Trotsky beard and the Fidel Castro cigar in his hand. I should have cast my ballot for either Warren (Doc) Sheehan or Millard Schneider for highway commissioner. "Doc" is probably the most decent person that you'll ever meet in politics.

Anyway, King James (The First) Semmerling is the personification of the petty politician on a power trip. Unfortunately, there are a million Semmerlings holding office. They succumb to the drug-like effect of power. Political power transforms people. Many candidates run for public office with best of intentions. Once elected, they get power in their hands. Then they become tyrants, transformed in spirit and personality.

It is a tragedy that my late grandfather, John F. Mueller, couldn't have presented a political seminar for public officials. My grandfather was a masterful politician for many years in Jefferson County, Wis. As a boy, I absorbed his political philosophy. Here some examples of my late grandfather's political wisdom: 1. "Take your responsibilities seriously, but never take yourself seriously." 2. "We are all born naked, and the only thing we're buried with is our reputation. It's your integrity, and how you've touched people's lives that really matters." 3. "Both voters and politicians are fragile human beings prone to mistakes. Life is tough on everyone. Therefore, public officials should be sensitive to people."

King Semmerling has all the symptoms of the arrogant politician. First, he denies that he is a politician. Anybody, who seeks your vote, is a politician. When Jim Semmerling ran for highway commissioner, do you think that he advised people: "Don't vote for me?"

Second, he criticizes a host of public officials. Does anyone really believe that one politician has a monopoly on truth and virtue? How can Semmerling be so right, and everyone else be so wrong? Third, King James loves the ink. He lives for the headlines. When I interviewed the King at Lakeland Newspapers, he kept poking me and saying, "Now, don't write that down." Of course, you know that he wanted me to record his epistles of wisdom. Why I'm willing to wager after Semmerling reads this column, he'll probably send me flowers. Fourth, Semmerling always maintains that he represents "the little people" of the township. In my opinion, he abuses the folks that he claims to serve. Semmerling considers himself King of the asphalt, and God of the township.

In my judgement, Semmerling's most abusive behavior has been directed against the Stratton Subdivision Property Owners. The King has initiated litigation against the subdivision to secure jurisdiction over their private easement. It's my perception that Semmerling is waging a personal vendetta against the families of the Stratton Subdivision to demonstrate his public authority. On Oct. 11, 1985, residents of the subdivision debated the issue with Semmerling at a Lake

Steinke On Politics

Villa Twp. meeting. The people asked Semmerling how he would react to a petition on matter.

Here are excerpts of King James' response to the question: "I don't honor petitions...The reason I don't honor a petition is that anybody can embarrass someone into signing it. I was embarrassed into signing a petition into getting Frank Grenus to get on the school board. But...there are only two people, who make policy in this Twp. One is the supervisor. One is the highway commissioner. Trustees just approve bills, etc. Now the supervisor—and I want no calls to the supervisor...I make all decisions...I am the final word...The supervisor has nothing to do with it."

Here is another exchange between Semmerling and some of his constituents on road matters:

Mrs. Kennedy: "If enough of the people (Continued on Page 12B)

Receive Degrees

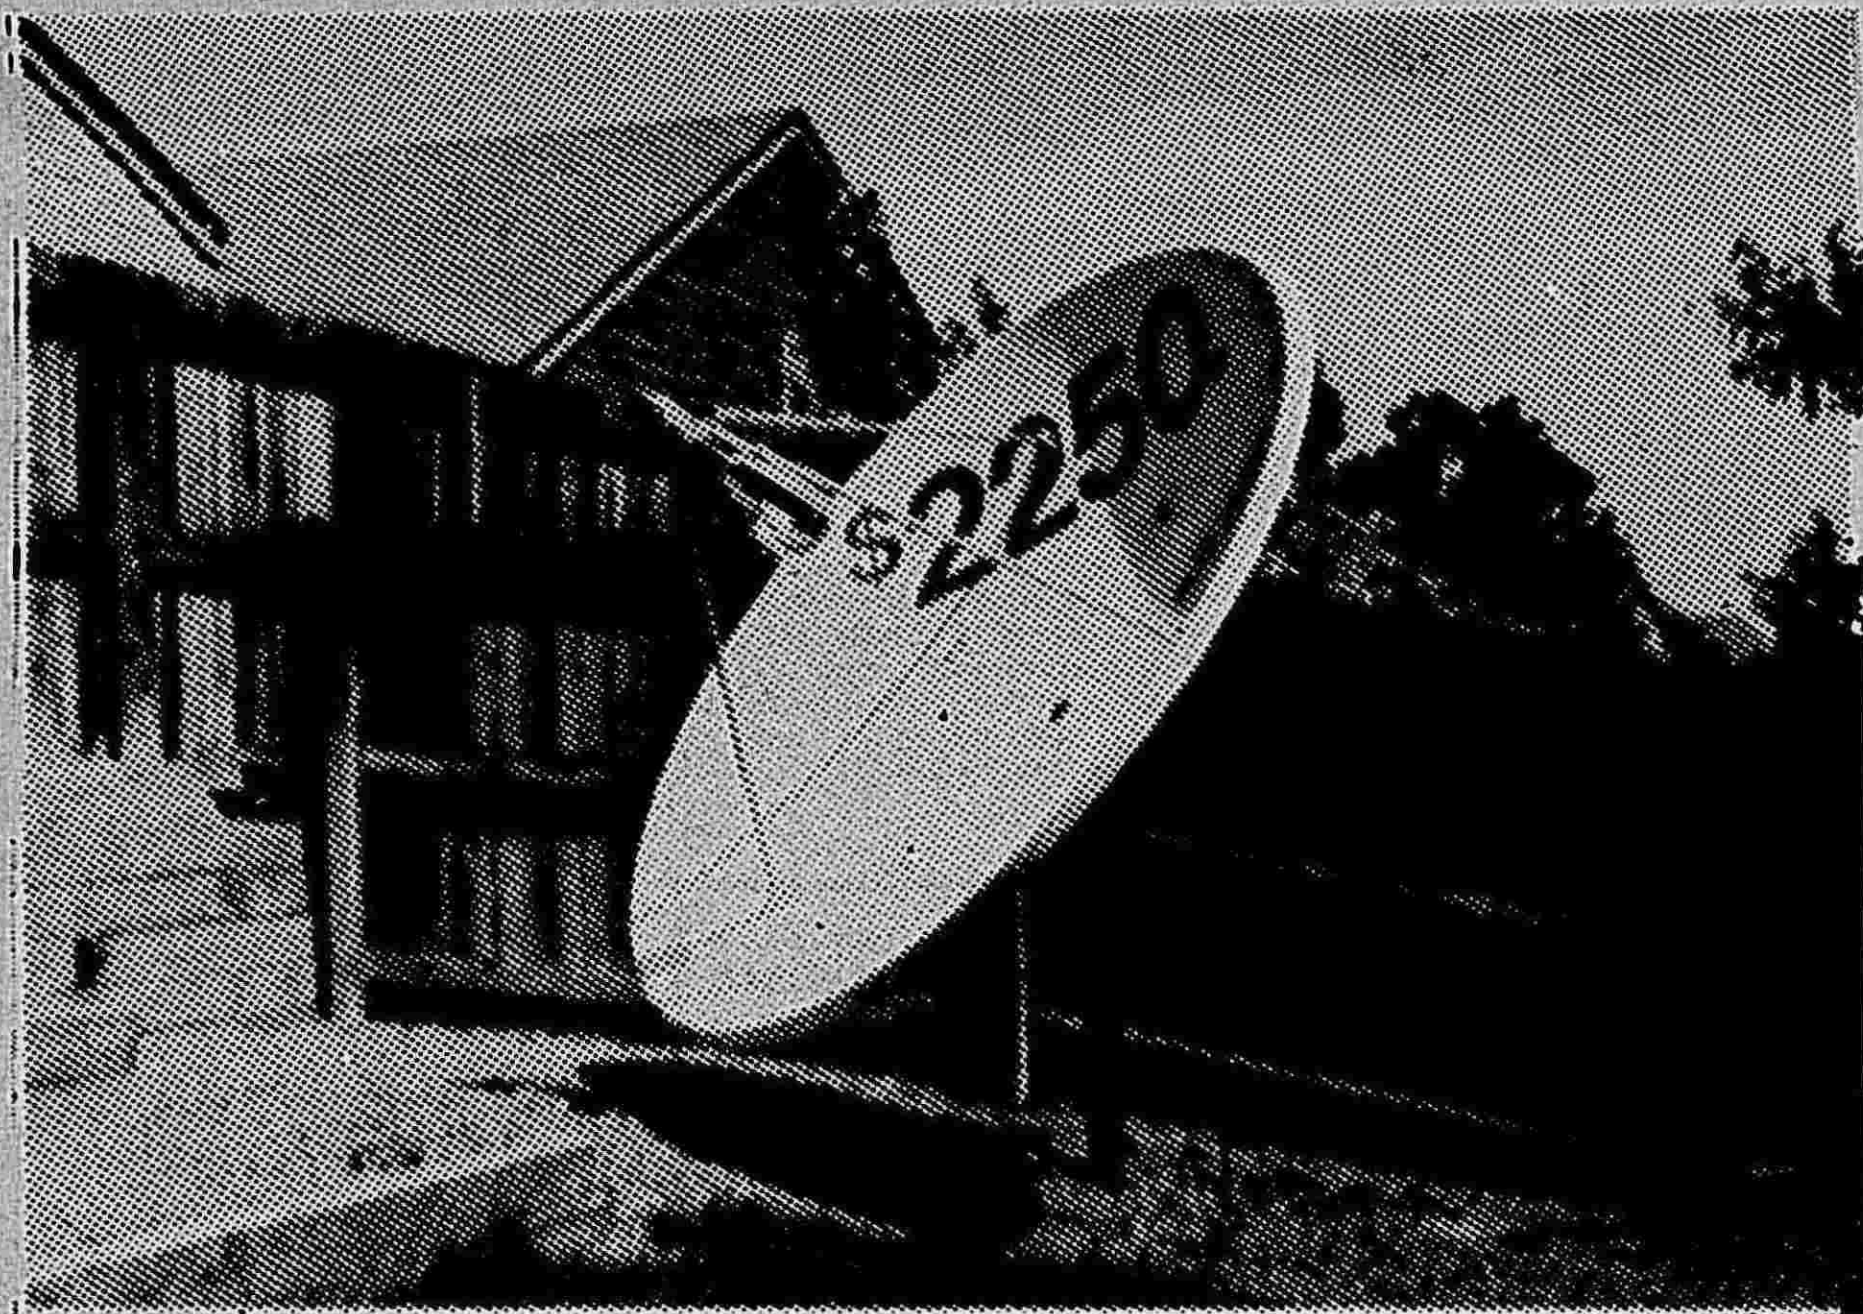

Bradley Clement Vath, Mundelein, and David Alan Esler, Wauconda, were among students at Ohio State University, Columbus, who received degrees for the spring quarter.

Name Graduates

The following Lakeland area students received degrees from Eastern Illinois University, Charleston:

Karen Susanne Pape, Antioch; Gregory Alan Wendt, Grayslake; Ann M. Ostrander, Gurnee; Carol Ann Blecke, Lindenhurst; from McHenry - Susan Joy Bielsky, Julie Lynn Diedrich, Gregory C. Schaeffer, Robert Earl Stanell; Kathleen S. Kochler, Mundelein; and Hans J. Kuhn, Wildwood.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services.

Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Show Set For August 14-17

Tired of Theme Parks? Bored with Summerfest? Then try something different for a change. Plans are now completed for the 30th Annual Steam Show and Threshing Bee to be held at the Taylor Marshall Farm, Sycamore, Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 17.

For a small admission fee, only $2 for adults (children under 12 are free), you and your family can view actual working steam engines. A steam-powered saw mill operates daily cutting huge logs into lumber, a threshing machine separates oats and straw, and an antique mill cuts wood into thin shingles.

Other attractions include antique gas and kerosene tractors, craft demonstrations, model steam train, a charming barnyard zoo and a pedal pull for the youngsters. There is a small scale steam train in operation, and a walk through the flea market for "bargains" and much, much more.

The beautiful hardwood grove on the Taylor Marshall farm provides an ideal setting for the Steam Show and Threshing Bee, with plenty of free parking, lots of shade trees, and a natural amphitheatre which quartees a fantastic view of the daily parade.

Lots of good food and cold drinks are available, so bring the whole family. Open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Sponsored by the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club, a not-for-profit organization.

Big and Small Engines

Big engines and small engines can be seen running daily at the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club's "The Sycamore Show" at Taylor Marshall Farm, Plank Rd., Sycamore, on Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 17.

disagree, where do they go, and who do they see?"

Semmerling: "No one."

Mr. Nelson: "We have no recourse at all?"

Semmerling: "No...If you disagree with me then actually, you have no recourse."

Can you believe how King "Final Authority" Semmerling plowed under the Constitution and his constituency? Semmerling should be required to memorize the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution:

"Congress shall make no law...prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech...or the right of people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." We should all support the Freedom Fighters of Stratton Subdivision in their war against alleged government tyranny. The Minutemen, who fired the shot heard 'round the world at Lexington and Concord in 1775, would be proud of the Stratton Subdivision residents especially Ted O'Mary, Wayne Johnson, Jim Nelson and Wally Kraus.

Community Keeps Dunn Happy At Round Lake

STEVE PETERSON
The words are painted on a wall in the weight room at Round Lake Senior High School.

"Only The Strong Survive" is the message to all Panthers.

And as far as football coach Mike Dunn is concerned, that is the key ingredient that makes Round Lake a special place to be.

"The greatest characteristic of these high school kids is they are survivors. I always like taking a kid, seeing him work hard and reaching his potential. We just think we're stronger," Dunn said.

The survival atmosphere that permeates throughout the RLSHS program comes from the community, Dunn said.

"Nothing comes easy for these kids. They are taught you have to work for what you get," the coach said.

Dunn said overall community involvement at Round Lake is higher than any previous school he has been employed. That includes the Chicago Catholic League and Waukegan East.

"The community really rallies around the high school. It is the best school
I've been at for community involvement. It's an atmosphere, you like to be coaching in," Dunn said.

One symbol of that involvement is the new lights being installed at the football field. Although delayed by a week because of problems with cement, the new lights will add a flavor to Panther football not present previously.

"Football is meant to be played at night," Dunn said.

Other projects taken on by parents and the community in general include donations to the school's annual weight-a-thon, painting of the football stadium and turnout at all events.

In addition to the "Only
The Strong Survive", Round Lake has its own theme song.

It is the hit single "We Are Family" by Sister Sledge.

That song is blared over the public address system after every Panther home football game.

"What we try to do in all sports is emphasize the feeling that we are family and oneness. We're proud to be identified as Round Lake.
Family means you are proud of what you are doing. You should see our pep rallies;
it's just unbelievable," Dunn
said.

Dunn said one of the reasons that 1985 was a banner sports year for Round Lake: co-champs in football, baseball and basketball champions with several Most Valuable Player Awards, is a cooperative effort among all coaches.

"The athletic coaching staff really supports each other," Dunn said.

He points to basketball coach Bob Ward helping to talk Robby Akers into playing football for Dunn as an example.

Last year started as just another year for Round Lake as the Panthers lost to Elwood Park and Dundee-Crown in the first two games.

But then the Panthers put on a six-game winning streak. That was good enough for a 6-4 record, cochamps in the Northwest Suburban Conference with Lake Zurich and a playoff bid.

"The Marian Central
game was the turning point.

It showed us and the rest of the conference that Marian is human; that they can be beaten," Dunn said.

The 14-7 win by Round
Lake was the first NWSC loss handed to Marian in 17 league games.

Dunn, a former quarterback at Chicago Phillips High School, had coaching in his blood early. His grandfather was a coach for 40 years.

After graduating from

Phillips, Dunn attended Illinois Benedictine College.

His first coaching stint came at Aurora Central High School, then at Waukegan East. For 18 years, Dunn was a high school football head coach.

Staff cutbacks at
looking for work four years ago. He took an assistant's position at Carmel for one year before the Round Lake job opened up.

A Round Lake Message

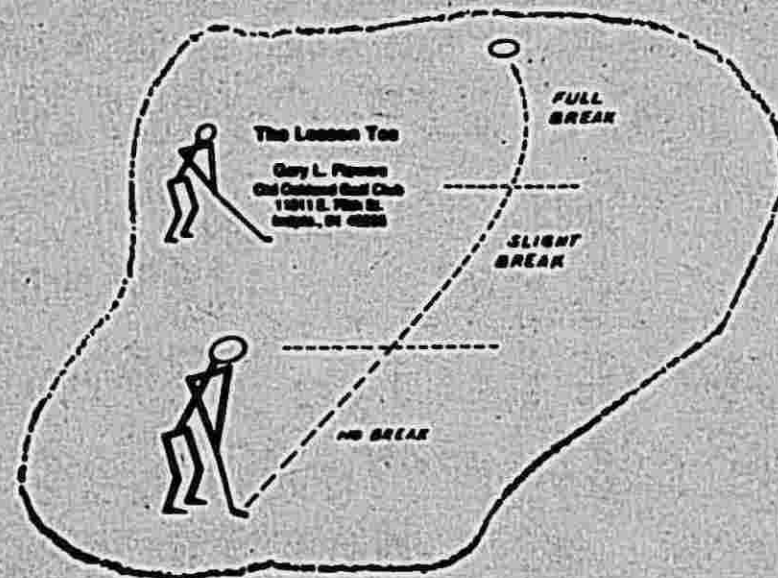

Round Lake Senior High School football coach Mike Dunn stands next to a sign which carries a special meaning for all Panthers. "Only The Strong Survive" is the theme for RLSHS sports programs. Q: I am a fairly good spot putter but I misread the longer putts and am usually left with a 3" or 4" second putt. How can I improve on the longer ones?

A: Something you may not be considering on these longer putts of 30' or more is that by far the greatest amount of break will occur in the final 1/3 of the total putting distance. As the illustration shows, the first 2/3 of the distance will produce only the full break. To improve this part of your game you must pay closer attention to the break in that final 1/3 and putt the ball accordingly.

Eight-Year-Old Girl Reunited With Mother

After being forcibly abducted nearly four years ago, an eight year old Waukegan girl and her mother have been reunited, Lake County Sheriff Robert H. Babcox has announced. The youth, Lisa M. Rosinski, was located near Anchorage, Alaska, after an anonymous telephone call to the I SEARCH State hotline in Springfield, Babcox said.

The father, Theodore K. Rosinski, age 40, formerly of Mundelein and Waukegan, is begin held on $50,000 bond in Anchorage pending extradition. He is charged with child abduction. The sheriff's department also has an outstanding warrant for battery stemming from the abduction incident, Babcox said.

She was forcibly abducted Nov. 11, 1982, in the front yard of her grandmother's, who received a broken arm during the struggle. At the time, Mr. Rosinski had visitation rights under terms of the court, Babcox said. "Both of us are thrilled," an excited mother, Diana D. Mentzer, said, on being together with her daughter. "I SEARCH agents of the state police contacted our I SEARCH Unit after receiving information on Lisa's whereabouts," Babcox said. Lisa and father were living in a rural area of Anchorage under assumed names, Lisa returned to Illinois in the company of her mother.

DESIGNERS

and with more exposure of your hair to the sun and wind, more frequent reconditioning is in order. To discover what condition your hair is in, Joan's Designers invites you to visit us for a Trichoanalysis, free of charge. Trichoanalysis is a scientific way to test your hair and evaluate the protein and moisture content. This knowledge is important to understand how to maintain your hair and add necessary treatments to combat dryness, limpness or fly-away appearance caused by summer activity. Don't wait until the summer ends. Call us today for a complimentary hair analysis!

SUMMERIZING TIPS:

- Prior to swimming, apply Redken Phinal Phase to provide protection against unnecessary drying effects of chlorinated water. Phinal Phase is a cream rinse formulated with protein that removes tangles, yet does not leave hair soft or limp.
- Whenever your hair is wet, avoid vigorous brushing and/or rubbing with towel drying, since this can damage your hair. Instead, blot hair dry with a towel and comb gently with a wide-tooth comb.
- If your hair develops a greenish cast, we have an in-salon treatment that takes only five minutes to restore your hair to its original color.
- To further protect your hair from the natural elements, try being inventive with scarves. Hats also provide great protection.
- Have a professional hair analysis and salon reconditioning treatment every four to six weeks to keep your hair in shape.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

MARK AND ANDREW Biel report that they noticed a well-known Antiochan in the crowd scenes of Rodney Dangerfield's new movie, "Back to School."

The budding Hollywood star is Jim Bucar, son of Antioch's erstwhile Seeing Eye person, Dr. Al and Phyllis Bucar. Dr. Al tells me that Jim now has a cable TV interview show in California.

"He just had writer-philosopher Leo Buscaglia on - which is almost an impossible feat," said Dr. Al.

Bucar added that Jim recently interviewed another Antiochan that has gone into show biz - singer Lloyd Pederson who is in Van Nuys now.

THE LIONS ANNUAL Chicken Barbecue faced some stiff competition this year: the Bears were playing the Cowboys in London on the same day. Still the turnout was outstanding. Luckily, the weather was absolutely gorgeous.

Rumor has it that Janet Brook ordered her chicken dinner to go, though. She is reported to be one of the biggest Bear fans in Antioch and was not about to miss even one play.

Women's Aglow Will Meet On 5th

Antioch Women's Aglow Fellowship announces a "Time for Refreshing" for Christian women of all denominational backgrounds. For this very special meeting, the speakers will be Burt and Pam Singer from Haifa, Israel.

Burt and Pam have a world-wide ministry, teaching and preaching in more than 35 nations. Though both were born in the United States, their home has been in Israel since 1975.

As a young man, Burt was a professional boxer. This training and discipline helped prepare him to fight the "good fight of faith." Pam's current recording, "O Jerusalem," is a selection of spiritually inspired music.

They have ministered praise and worship in word and song in churches, conventions, and open-air crusades, as well as meetings of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International and Women's Aglow Fellowship. In addition, they have made appearances on television and radio, including the 700 Club with Pat Robertson, Daystar with Robert Tilton, the African PTL with Benson

Idahosa, and Messianic Vision with Sid Roth.

The Singers' ministry of uplifting joy and encouragement leads congregations in praise, high praise, worship and spiritual warfare. They have been privileged to bring thousands to a release in the Spirit of God.

You need not be a member to attend. Men are also invited to attend this month's special meeting. The "Time for Refreshing" is 7:30 p.m. on August 5 at the State Bank of Antioch's Community Room. Reservations are not necessary. There is no charge for the meeting; an offering will be taken. For more information, call Eileen at (312) 746-8281.

Re-Development

Art Neckerman (right), project chairman for the Antioch Re-development Commission, goes over blueprints with local contractor Tom Robinson. Robinson is doing the rehabilitation work on the former E.J.'s Camera storefront. After the project is complete, Bran's Nuts of Wauconda will move into the store under a two-year lease.

The British Are Coming

Pack 190 Keeps Busy All Summer

Cub Scout Pack 190 of St. Peter's Church has been very busy this summer. In May, the pack participated in the scout show at the Lake County Fairgrounds. They also constructed a float which was in the Fourth of July parade in Antioch.

Many of the boys earned awards which they had worked for during the past year. Others moved up into local boy scout troops. The awards were presented in an outdoor ceremony at Camp

Crown.

The cub scouts will participate in many activities throughout the summer, including a fishing derby, family night at the swimming pool, a trip to Wilmot Speedway, the annual soapbox derby, and several picnics.

Parents interested in signing their boys up for scouting should call Scoutmaster Dave Sproull at (312) 395-8783 or Joan Jones at (312) 395-2650.

Women Of The Moose Host College Of Regents Night

Antioch Chapter of the Women of the Moose hosted its annual College of Regents chapter night program July 10 with 37 collegians from Antioch, Cicero, Waukegan, Kenosha, McHenry, Forest Park, Portage Park, Harvard and Elmhurst filling the officers and chairmen's chairs.

Antioch's senior regent, Theresa Grefkowitz, opened the meeting by presenting college chairman Marge Hansen with a corsage. Chairman Hansen and college member Judith Patterson were invited with a red tassel replacing the green ones that adorned their caps. The red tassel signified one full year as college of regents member. Collegians Jerri Polson and June Gulbrandsen acted as investing officers.

The guest speaker for the evening was Antioch's newest collegian, Mavis Dingsdale, who received the College of Regents degree in May at the International Convention in Chicago.

Two new members were enrolled in chairman Hansen's honor. The membership campaign theme for the year is a musical note. For this special meeting the hall was decorated with styrofoam notes hanging from the ceiling and music clefs on the walls.

The July business meeting, held on the 17th, was attended by 25 co-

Gulowski read the chapter policies for the year along with meeting minutes, correspondence, and arraignment list. Balloting was workers. Recorder Louise held on eight new members.

Senior Regent Grefkowitz presented Mavis Dingsdale and Margie Turner with the first sponsor pins of the year. Bobbie Knackstedt received her pin for last year's sponsorship. Jr. Graduate Regent Dorothy Laursen was named co-worker of the month and received a gift and card from the chapter for her efforts with many chapter functions as well as community and Loyal order work.

The July birthday marcher, Treasurer Julie Gajewski received a gift from the chapter.

Announcements of upcoming chapter events were given by Senior Regent Grefkowitz: annual picnic, Williams Park, July 20; Ritual practice, 7:30 p.m., July 28; Membership chapter night program, Aug.

3, 2 p.m.; Annual State Convention, August 8, 9, 10 in Peoria; August business meeting, Aug. 21, 8 p.m.

Reagan Commends Committee

Ken Paterson, a member of the High Technology Advisory Committee at the College of Lake County (CLC), has been awarded a commendation for excellence in vocational education from President Ronald Reagan's Private Sector Initiative Program.

Paterson, manager of central engineering at Motorola, Inc., has guided the High Technology Advisory Committee, composed of representatives from area industries, and faculty members from CLC's Engineering, Math and Physical Science Division, in the development of CLC's Automated Industrial Center, which serves as a demonstration/instructional facility for area industries interested in automation manufacturing.

Michael McEvoy of Baxter Travenol Laboratories, who has also been instrumental in the committee's success, was CLC's second nominee for the award.

The committee has demonstrated a strong business/education partnership by planning curriculum, and securing equipment and software for CLC's Automated Industrial Center.

Other committee members include representatives from Cherry Electrical Product Corp., Cummins Allison, Outboard Marine Corp., Abbott Laboratories, Fansteel Metals.

The award was presented in June at the conference of the National Assn. of State Councils in Arlington, Va.

Buksa Takes Lead

Dave Buksa, with two tournament championships, is now the player to beat in the Coca Cola-Lakeland Publishers tennis series.

Buksa added a win at Vernon Hills to his Waukegan triumph. That gave his 13 points, three better than Fred Acosta, the Gurnee champion who led for most of the series.

Only one more tourney - at Libertyville Recreation Dept. Aug. 16 and 17 - remains before the championship series at the Waukegan Park Dist. Aug. 22-24.

Buksa and Acosta are automatic qualifiers for the meet. Champions Leonard Rosenberg, the Round Lake winner, Dennis Korjenek, the Zion champ and Lindenhurst champ Stu Short all have qualified for the meet.

Short and Dennis Korjenek are tied for third at seven points.

Rosenberg has five points while Mike Stanzak and Dave Cary have four each.

A group tied at three points includes Dennis Daly, Rodney Warfield, Jeff Olekinski, Lance Laverty, Don Korjenek, Al Gubit, Gary Hattendorf, Mike Nichols, Mike Kohler and Joe Sanchez.

Set Refuse Record

This year's Lake County Fair had a record attendance of 174,874 fun-seekers. This was substantiated by another less publicized record of 44 tons of refuse removed during the five-day event by HOD Disposal Service, a Waste Management Company. Harry Habets, general manager of HOD, complimented site supervisor, Carl Bech, on the tremendous job he and his people did keeping the grounds clean and containers empty.
